W/T Standbys

2. AIRBLOWN was called in from Khalkis on 31 August. He received the monthly living allowance for himself, AIPUMP and AIRWAY. He reported that all were in good health and pursuing their physical fitness program as aggressively as was consistent with the maintenance of security. He was told that AIPUMP would be sent for at the end of September.

3. AIRWISE was seen on 27 August and given his living allowance and that of AIRBORNE for the month. He was seen again in the company of AIRBORNE on 3 September when he complained of an attack of appendicitis. [] saw him immediately and confirmed his illness whereupon arrangements were made to deliver him to a Greek clinic. His attack passed while under observation there and he was released without surgery.

4. In conjunction with a survey we are conducting now to identify possible assassination targets, AIRWISE was asked to submit a listing of Communist "criminals" known to him. He did so, but all his proposals were subsequently discarded for a variety of reasons.
